Charlie Rennie Mackintosh was a famous artist and architect, who was born in Glasgow in 1868 and died in London in 1928.

The Rose Pattern

- The rose was a popular motif and theme in much of Mackintosh's work. It was used in a number of his buildings and designs and is still found on many objects to this day.

Stained glass windows

Your TASK is to draw a Mackintosh rose and create your own artwork- maybe a mirror, wallpaper or stained glassed window? Use paints, chalks, crayons or pencils –any materials that you have at home is fine.

Please email your teachers a photo of your finished art work as we would love to see it.
